

72-core power cable duct optical cable model

Overview

---

YOFC Z-XOTKtsdDb is a fiber optic cable designed for installation in telecommunication ducts. In the GDTS cable, single-mode/multimode fibres are positioned in loose tubes, which are made of high modulus plastics and filled with water-blocking materials. Loose tubes and required insulated copper wires are stranded around the metallic central strength member into a compact and circular cable. DUCT Fiber Optical Cable, also known as duct-grade fiber optic cable or duct cable, is specifically used as underground/underwater fiber optic cable.
